

Allen's Swamp Monkey

Habitat: Swampy forests and creeks

Size: 18 inches with up to a 24 inch long tail. Males weigh up to 13 pounds, females up to 7.5 pounds

Life Span: Approx. 18 years

Diet: fruits, leaves, invertebrates and small vertebrates

Reproduction: 1 baby is born after a 5-6 month gestation period

Conservation Status

Extinct

Extinct in the wild

Critically Endangered

Endangered

Vulnerable

Near Threatened

Least Concern

Due to:

Humans have killed them in retaliation for crop raids and captured them for the pet trade.

Did You Know?

Allen's swamp monkeys use their cheek pouches to store extra food as they forage.