

Llama

Habitat: Grasslands and shrub lands in western South America

Size: 3-4 feet tall; 150-450 pounds

Life Span: Around 15-20 years

Conservation Status

Extinct

Extinct in the wild

Critically Endangered

Endangered

Vulnerable

Near Threatened

Least Concern

Diet: grass, herbs, shrubs, lichen

Reproduction: 1 cria born after an 11-12 month gestation

Did You Know?

The wool provided by llamas is lightweight, warm, and luxurious, making it a popular choice of spinners and weavers.

Threats:
Overhunting and habitat loss by overgrazing