

Black-handed Spider Monkey

Habitat: Rainforest, evergreen and semi-deciduous forests in Mexico and Central America

Size: 22 inches with a 36 in long tail; weigh 10-20 pounds

Life Span: 15-35 years

Diet: fruit, nuts, seeds, flowers, leaves, insects and eggs.

Reproduction: 1 young after a 4 ½ month gestation period

Conservation Status

Extinct

Extinct in the wild

Critically Endangered

✓ Endangered

Vulnerable

Near Threatened

Least Concern

Did You Know?

Spider monkeys have a prehensile tail that helps them grasp things and balance better.

Due to:
Habitat loss and
illegal pet trafficking